

Sao Tomé and Príncipe

Global Ocean supported the work of young environmental campaigner, Francisco Goncalves, in Sao Tome and Principe. Francisco's trips to the region effectively prevented STP from joining the International Whaling Commission and voting alongside the super-rich whaling nations, and is thought to be the first successful campaign of its type in the African region.